ROOM FOR OLD MEN IN THE BIG BALDWIN HOME

In response to a letter from the superintendent of the Fred Baldwin Home for Old Men, on Maui, in which it was stated that the home could accommodate about forty old white men who had arrived at the age where they could no longer work, and who had no friends to look toward for aid, the Associated Charities, of which Mrs. A. C. Jordan is manager, has started an active campaign to secure such old men who live in Honolulu who are in need of a home where they may spend their last days.

The work has been very slow so far, although last week there were two men sent to the home, and this week another. At present the case of an old man who has neither friends or funds is being investigated, and he will probably be sent to the home during the early part of next week.

Mrs. Jordan made the statement that there was one more home needed in the Hawaiian Islands, and this to be for old couples. There are several cases in the city of old couples who are being cared for by different benevolent societies, and Mrs. Jordan is of the opinion that a suitable home for them would satisfy a long-felt want.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL RECITAL

Musical and literary lovers of Honolulu will be given a treat on December 2, when Mr. John Erskine Laraway and Mrs. Elsie Howard appear in a most unique and novel recital of a widely diversified nature, with a combined musical and literary program.

Among the various numbers to be given will be a cycle of songs composed by Mrs. Howard, which have never been given out for publication, being used by Mrs. Howard exclusively for private musicales.

Mr. Laraway will also recite a few poems set to music by Mrs. Howard. John Erskine Laraway of the Emerson School of Oratory and Chicago University is a reader of rare ability and great success. Mr. Laraway has taught dramatics for the last five years in the leading schools of Washington, and at present is on his way to Australia where a tour of the principal cities is to be made. Mr. Erskine has studied and read Shakespeare more extensively than any other author, but by no means does he confine himself to Shakespeare as he gives many other styles of reading. Mr. Laraway did not intend at first to give a recital here, but has been persuaded to give this reading during his stay in Honolulu.

Mrs. Elsie Howard, Nee Elsie Cross-Thomas of the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, solo pianiste and accompanist has been a pupil at the Llangan Conservatoire of Music, Switzerland, also of the famous London master Tobias Matthay. Mrs. Howard has played with great success in London, Bristol and Cardiff, and many smaller towns in England and Wales. Mrs. Howard states that her most thrilling recital was given in the famous Monastery of St. Bernard in Switzerland, where for one evening she was the guest of the monks. The icy blizzard enveloped the old grey building in its whirlwind grasp, and the wind tore and howled around the people as only the wind of great heights can do, but within the log fire made all warm and cozy, and on the instrument which had been presented to the monks by King Edward VII, the

DEMOCRATS WILL CONTROL SENATE

Oregon Victory Makes Total of 49 Votes Party Has Congress and President

WASHINGTON, November 9.—The positive announcement of the success of Harry Lane, the Democratic candidate for the Senate in Oregon, assures Democratic control of the upper house of Congress and places both branches of the national legislature and the Presidency in their hands for the first time in eighteen years.

The addition of Oregon to the Democratic list gives that party forty-nine Senators or a majority of two in addition to the election of successors to Democratic Senators now sitting. Democrats will displace Republicans from Oregon, New Jersey, Kansas, Colorado, Montana, Delaware and Nevada, and will fill the vacancies in Colorado with a man of their planists played piece after piece.

"It was one of the most impressive evenings of my life," remarked Mr. Howard when relating to the incident.

Mrs. Howard's selections will be taken from among the works of Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin, Liszt and others.

choosing. The contests in Illinois, where two Senators are to be chosen, and in Tennessee and Michigan remain to be decided. The Democrats make positive claims concerning some of these States, but whatever the result in any or all of them, Democratic control of the Senate is assured.

That the Republican party cannot count on him as one of their Senate members, whether that party has majority in the Senate or not, was the statement made today at Spokane by Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, hitherto numbered among the Republican Senators.

"I ran for Congress and the Senate as a Progressive Republican," Senator Poindexter said. "I suppose now I shall leave off the last word. It is my intention to start the next session of Congress as a member of the Progressive party, I declined to caucus with the Republicans when they were strong and I fail to see why I should do so when they are so weak they could only carry eight electoral votes."

Two men recently paddled a 12-foot canoe from the San Diego Rowing Club's house to the Coronado Islands and back again.

Mrs. Betsy Jones has just received her final papers of her homestead at Fort Lupton, Colo. She is 84 years old.

"I want some concomitants with my oysters," "Just out of 'em, sir, but I'll bring you some crackers and pickles instead."

CITY'S MEDICOS TO URGE STRICT RAT QUARANTINE

The urgent necessity of a strict rat quarantine at Honolulu received marked emphasis in a discussion of that topic by Dr. F. E. Trotter this afternoon, at the annual meeting of the Territorial Medical Society at the University Club.

His remarks on this subject, following directly on the heels of the recommendations made a few days ago to Governor Frazier by Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, in his report on the big convention of physicians at Washington, D. C., are directly in line with the opinion expressed by the president of the board of health.

This is that if Honolulu is to have a guaranty of immunity from the black plague when the tide of commerce reaches its full growth, following the opening of the Panama Canal, precaution must be taken at once to establish a quarantine against rats along the harbor front, that will be as nearly perfect as it can be made.

Dr. Hobdy, president of the society, made the opening address, and papers were read by Dr. E. S. Goodhue, on "Mycetozoa," and by Dr. W. G. Rogers on "Parenchymatous Keratitis."

The members tomorrow will be entertained by Dr. Cooper at his Holow Beach cottages, at a sing luncheon and picnic, and the meeting will end Monday evening with a banquet at the Country Club. A number of papers on scientific subjects will be read and discussed Monday afternoon.

AUTOMOBILE AND CAR IN SMASH-UP

A smash-up caused by a peculiar accident on Nuuanu late last night, or early this morning has been kept so carefully guarded that neither the police nor the street car company have been able to learn the names of those concerned. It appears that an automobile was running out Nuuanu street and had reached that narrow portion just below the cemetery, when it turned out to avoid the car, which was coming along at a rapid pace, in turning, the driver struck the curb, which is close to the rails, and the wheels of his machine were thrown back directly in the path of the trolley. The auto was badly damaged, but managed to limp off without assistance. The car, No. 24, was uninjured, although it was jarred off the track. No one, so far as is now known to the police and Rapid Transit Company, was hurt.

PLAN A FOOT FOR NEW HOTEL BUILDING HERE

Plans are now on foot for the building of a new hotel for Honolulu on the Cooke and Allen property, opposite Thomas Square, providing the site can be secured for this purpose.

At a meeting of the promotion committee yesterday it was reported the Allen homestead is for sale and that it was being looked toward as an ideal site for a hotel, and much better, if the Cooke homestead, which adjoins it, could also be secured. These two properties extend from Beretania street to Kinau, and practically occupy all the space bounded by Victoria, Kinau, Kapoli and Beretania streets. The price, as stated yesterday, which is wanted for the Allen property is $120,000. This, however, is believed to be an error.

The promotion committee is still backing its statement that by 1915 it will be necessary for Honolulu to be well equipped with boarding houses and hotels, or else the tourist trade will suffer a severe blow, and the committee is always enthusiastic in its support of any project for a new boarding-house or hotel. It is expected that Honolulu will receive the greater number of tourists who will go to see the big fair in 1915, and who will travel farther. It is also of the opinion that in the next three years the tourist trade will grow to unusually large proportions, and in order to accommodate the increasing traffic the Matson Navigation Company will build two new lines, each of which will accommodate 350 first-class passengers.

It is hoped that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company will add another line, and that the plan for the five-day boat between San Francisco and Honolulu, which was rumored some time ago, will be put into effect. However, the latest official news from that company is that the plans to add new vessels to the line have been abandoned.

POPULAR SAVINGS BANKS ARRIVE

The S. S. Lurline last Wednesday brought a new supply of the popular home savings banks which are furnished by the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., to its depositors. The banks have been in such demand that the stock on hand was exhausted and the new supply will be welcomed by hundreds of new depositors who have been waiting for them.

BEGIN WORK ON THE PUNCHBOWL ROADS SHORTLY

Active construction of the roads of the Punchbowl tract will begin about 11 p. m. tomorrow, according to the morning that $50,249.83 has been paid to the homesteaders of the district on their lots, taken either by private sale or by public auction. This amount is to go toward the building of the highways of that district, which will have a total length of about five miles.

A comfortable sum in taxes has been paid into the territorial treasury the last month, and the treasury now has to its credit $2,885,832.11, a large part of which is placed on interest at local banks.

MISS RENWICK DEAD

A wireless message was received here yesterday announcing the death of Miss Isabelle Renwick, who is well known throughout the Islands, at her home in Oahu, Hawaii, Thursday night. Her many friends here were unable to form an opinion as to the cause of death, as this was not stated in the message, but letters in this morning's mail gave the details of her last illness.

Miss Renwick was taken ill with an abscess in the throat. She said nothing of it to her friends until her suffering became intense and her conditions serious. She appeared to be getting along all right until Thursday last, when she began to fall rapidly, and passed away at 5 o'clock that afternoon.

Miss Renwick came to Honolulu in 1884 from Hawick, Scotland. She was an aunt of Mrs. A. Frazier, wife of the head lums of the Waiwae Plantation.

There was no one of the pioneers in the Oahu district who worked with more infinite courage and perseverance than Miss Renwick. She established her home on one of the homestead plots near Glenwood starting first in coffee and finally finding it necessary to return to teaching to provide money for her home-making enterprise. Returning to the homestead, she made quite a business of growing pohos for preserves and lilies for the Hilo and Honolulu flower market.

Miss Renwick was a woman of refinement and high character, and the news of her death was a most unexpected shock to her many friends throughout the Islands.
